INTER-OFFICE MEMORANDUM

ATTENTION OF MEMO TO FILE

DATE December 2, 1976

DEPARTMENT

On Wednesday, December 1, 1976, Randy Lyman and Gary Pendergrass were notified concerning a raw sewage leak they had discovered Monday, November 29, at the Cinnamon Square pressure line. There appeared to be a possibility that the sewage could run into a small pond east of the break. This pond empties into Jones Creek, which in turn is tributary to Pearson Creek. After checking the leak, they contacted Bob Corson and John Witherspoon, requesting HTH to chlorinate the sewage. HTH was delivered and applied to the sewage shortly before noon. Randy and Gary remained at the site to see that no further flow escaped. The leak was repaired the same afternoon. The sewage did not reach the pond but possibly entered the groundwater. The quantity lost was undetermined but appeared to be small.
